Students for Saving Social Security To Hold Social Security Event on the Hill with Senator Jim DeMint and other Members of Congress

Washington, DC – Students for Saving Social Security (S4), a non-partisan student-based organization that advocates for Social Security reform, is hosting a Capitol Hill event to discuss how Social Security reform affects students. The event will be held Wednesday, July 19th at noon in the Hart Senate Office Building, room 902.

The Social Security event is co-sponsored by Accuracy in Academia, For Our Grandchildren, FreedomWorks, the Independent Women’s Forum, Americans for Prosperity, and 60 Plus. It will feature Senator Jim DeMint (R-SC) as the keynote speaker, and Congressmen Steve King (R-IA) and Jim Kolbe (R-AZ) will also present their thoughts on Social Security reform. Senior policy analyst David John (The Heritage Foundation), policy director Max Pappas (FreedomWorks), policy director Carrie Lucas (IWF), and 60 Plus President Jim Martin (60 Plus) will be present to give another perspective on the issue.

Students for Saving Social Security’s deputy director, Jo Jensen stated, “In recent weeks the President and prominent lawmakers have reaffirmed their commitment to Social Security reform. With this issue coming back to the forefront, Congress needs to know that young Americans care about Social Security reform.” National director and co-founder Patrick Wetherille added, “S4 is hopeful that this event will serve as a wake up call to those members of Congress who have chosen to ignore the Social Security crisis.”

Students for Saving Social Security is a national organization with over 3,500 members. With 280 chapters in all 50 states, S4 strives to advance the cause of Social Security reform through personal retirement accounts using honest, non-partisan debate and education.
